

Daily Meditations

Sunday

The Light within me shines, and it is good. I am awakening to this new day of Light and Love. Love reigns supreme. Love forgives my mistakes and guides me into inner peace.

Monday

This is the day that God hath made. God is the light unto this day. In this day there is no darkness of two powers; there is only the All-Presence and All-Power of the light of Love. The light of Love shines in this day, illuminating the way. I will rejoice and be glad in it. Love is unfolding Its plan for this day. Love directs, protects, and guides me every step of the way, and I will listen for Love's voice today.

Tuesday

Father, let me see the world as You see it. Open my spiritual ears, my spiritual eyes, that I may see creation as You see it.

Wednesday

Thank you, Father, for showing me that there is a difference between this world and My Kingdom. Now I have a choice; I choose to let the light of Love dispel the illusions of sense to reveal only the purity of your creation. I wait for that "gentle sound of stillness."

Thursday

Thank you, Father, that I do not have to take thought. It is Your capacities and talents that perform and fulfill my soul. My life is an activity of Soul, an activity of Consciousness, and I release it to You. This is Your world, Your kingdom, and I release it all back to Your government and watch You work.

Friday

Recognize those who come to your conscious awareness with this, I know thee who thou art. Thou are the image of Love. The substance and activity of your being is irresistible Love that is omnipresence as your eternal nature and character.

Saturday

Thank you, Beloved I, for being completely all. Thy presence is here and everywhere. Thou art all love and light. Thou satisfy the longing of my soul and fill my mind with light. All is in Thee; there is no outside to Thy grace. I am at home in Thee.